PREFACE.

THE present volume is a further instalment of a Calendar of certain documents selected from the class formerly known as Escheats, or Inquisitions post mortem.

It deals with the years 29 to 35 Edward I. The calendar is now complete to the end of the 9th year of Edward III.

In connexion with the doubts that have been cast in the English Historical Review and elsewhere on the credibility of statements alleged to have been made on oath at inquisitions for proof of age, attention may be called to numbers 239 and 240 in this volume, where several of the same jurors occur. Their ages as stated in the two inquisitions are inconsistent and the evidence of at least one of them is contradictory.

The text of this volume has been prepared by Mr. J. E. E. S. Sharp, I.S.O., an Assistant Record Keeper, with some assistance from Mr. A. E. Stamp, M.A., of this Office. Mr. Stamp has also compiled the Index.

H. C. MAXWELL LYTE.

Public Record Office,
29 April, 1913.

Table showing the present reference to all documents formerly included amongst the Inquisitions Post Mortem of the period covered by this volume.

The old reference is given in the first column, the new reference in the second, third, fourth, or fifth column as the case may be.

Documents which cannot now be traced are marked ‘missing.’

I. Endorsed: That they could find nothing in the books or rolls of the exchequer to certify and therefore have caused inquisition to be made in the exchequer, the tenor whereof they send. And because it is found in this inquisition that the tenements in question are held of the king by the like services by which William de Kendale lately deceased held his lands in Derleye, they also send a transcript of the inquisition lately taken before them concerning the lands which were of the said William.

Transcript from the records before the barons of the exchequer contained in the roll of Memoranda of the year 30.

Derby. The sheriff was commanded to cause 12 jurors to come and certify the barons concerning the contents of the writ in three weeks from the day of the Purification, when they came not, wherefore the sheriff was commanded to distrain them to come in fifteen days from Easter, when they came and said, that in the time of King Henry III, when the bailiwick of High Peak was in the hand of the present king, one Henry de Derleye died, who held that moiety of Derleye which was of Robert de Derleye now deceased, and had a son and heir Henry a minor, and the bailiff of the Peak took the said moiety with the body of the heir into the present king's hand; and afterwards Robert de Derleye, who then dwelt with the said Sir Edward, sued to him so that he rendered to the said Robert the said land and heir, and had a bovate of land of the gift of the heir for his aid. The said Henry had a son and heir Henry called Le Clop, who was of full age when his father died in the reign of the present king, when the bailiff of the Peak seized the said land into the king's hand; the said Henry Le Clop gave the bailiff 10 marks for his aid, who then restored the land to him. The same Henry had two sons, Robert and John, and died when they were under age; and the bailiff again seized into the king's hand the said land and the body of Robert the heir, and afterwards delivered the same to Ranulph de Snyterton for 10 marks. Afterwards the said Robert son of Henry died, without heir of his body, and the said moiety descended to John his brother, and because he is under age the escheator seized the same into the king's hand and holds it. It is held of the king by service of rendering 1 mark yearly at the castle of the Peak, the same service as that by which the other moiety is held which is in the king's wardship by the minority of the heir of William de Kendale, except that that moiety renders 2*s.* yearly more than this; the wood, fishery and a mill in Derleye pertain as well to one heir as the other, undivided.

From the records contained in the roll of Memoranda of the year 27. At the quinzaine of St. Hilary, 27 [Edw. I] was taken an inquisition before the barons concerning the lands &c. which William de Kendale held in Derleye, whereby it was found, that in the time of King Henry III, the bailiwick of High Peak was for a time in the hand of William de Scropton then *earl of Ferr[ars] (sic), but how the jurors know not; at which time one William, son of Robert son of Nicholas de Derley, who held the said moiety of Derleye, died, Andrew his son and heir being under age; and the said earl seized the same into his hand, and conferred the wardship, with the marriage of the said Andrew, on Thomas de Endesore then his steward of the said bailiwick; which Thomas married the said Andrew to Amice his daughter who survives, and the said Andrew died, Hugh his son and heir being under age. Afterwards King Henry by his bailiff of the Peak seized the said land into his hand and conferred the wardship, with the marriage of the said Hugh, upon one William de Grey for his good service; who sold the same to one Richard de Launcecoumbe, parson of the church of Derleye, who married the said Hugh to Juliana daughter of Roger de Bucmynstre, of whom he begat a daughter Isabel, who was under age when he died; whereupon the steward of the Peak under Edward, now king, then by the assignment of his father holding the bailiwick of the Peak for his maintenance, seized the said land into the said Edward's hand and sold the wardship with the marriage of the said Isabel to Richard de Launcecombe, who sold them to Thomas de Gratton, who married his son William to the same Isabel: she died without heir of her body, and the land descended to Thomas de Kendale her kinsman and heir, and he gave the same to William de Kendale his son, father of Alice now a minor and in wardship. Wherefore it is judged that the king ought to have the wardship of the moiety late of William de Kendale.

Cumberland, and he proffers three writings of the said John Wake:—one testifying that he granted to the same William the manor of Hadyngton and all his tenants in Whysceby, to hold to him &c. for ever, rendering a rose yearly, saving the king's foreign service; another testifying that he quit-claimed to the said William all his right in the manor of Southycham, to hold to him &c. for ever, rendering a red rose yearly; and the third testifying that he granted to the said William a messuage and 6*a.* land in Est Depyng, which Maud Benet formerly held of Sir Baldwin, father of the same John, to hold to him &c. for ever, rendering a rose yearly; and he bound his heirs to warrant the same. Wherefore it was considered that the said William should hold in peace, and that the said Joan should have of the heir's land in the king's wardship in co. Lincoln to the value &c. because all the lands which the king has of that inheritance &c. in Cumberland are assigned to her for her dower &c. against other tenants &c. as appears elsewhere.

Longeford. A capital messuage &c. 120*a.* land, 10*a.* meadow, 5 bovates of land in 'Le Wodehuses' which are held in bondage, 3½ bovates of land in Malvurton (?), 6 bovates of land in Bobindon, cottagers rendering 20*s.* 4*d.* yearly, a park and a water-mill, held of the bishop of Chester by service of a knight's fee and two appearances at the court of the said bishop at Lich(field) yearly.

Heir as above.

Writ of plenius certiorari, because the above inquisition makes no mention whether the said John held the manor of Kilwaldmersh of the king as of the crown or of any honour or escheat now in his hand, or whether he ought to find the horse &c. at his own charges or the king's, or what lands he gave to the said Nicholas and Katherine, or whether by the king's licence or not, 15 Oct. 32 Edw. I.

[Derby.] Inq. Wednesday after All Saints, 32 Edw. I.

Kenewaldemerche. He held the manor of the king in chief as of the honour of Peverel now in the king's hand, and not of the crown, by service of finding a man, with a horse, sack &c. as above, for forty days at his own charges, and doing suit &c. as above. In the summer before he went to the king in Scotland there was an agreement (prelocucio) made between the said John and Sir Henry de Braylesford that their sons and heirs should marry their daughters respectively, so that after the said espousals the said John should give to Nicholas his son and heir with Katherine daughter of the said Henry 20*l.* of land in the manors of Kenewoldemerche and Barleburgh to hold to them and the heirs of their bodies, and accordingly such a charter was made by the said John, but seisin was never given to the said Nicholas and Katherine in the life of the said John, who died seised thereof, and the charter is therefore void. The jurors of the first inquisition were simple persons not cognizant of English laws and customs, to whom it appeared that the charter was sufficient without seisin delivered, whereas it was of no value.

Writ of certiorari to the escheator to make inquisition whether the said John held anything in his bailiwick of the king in chief as of the crown, or not, and if the honour of Peverel was ever of the ancient demesne of the crown, or not, 28 March, 33 Edw. I.

DERBY. Inq. taken at Derby on Thursday before Easter, 33 Edw. I.

The said John held nothing of the king in chief as of the crown in the bailiwick, and the said honour was at no time of the ancient demesne of the crown, of England.

John his son, aged 39 and more, is his next heir.

C. Edw. I. File 111. (16.)

He held nothing as of fee simple.

He died without heir of his body, and the reversion of this manor belongs to the aforesaid Cecily. John de Bello Campo his brother, aged 30, is his next heir.

Writ of scire facias to the escheator, reciting the substance of the inquisition concerning the lands in Luton, and whereas by inspection of the rolls of the chancery it appears that by letters patent the king gave licence to the said Robert to retain to him and his heirs for ever certain lands &c. which he had there of the grant of Cecily de Bello Campo his mother, he is to warn the said Cecily and John de Bello Campo, the heir, to be present before the king and council at York on the quinzaine of Easter next, 30 Jan. 32 Edw. I. Endorsed by the escheator that he had warned the parties accordingly.

BEDFORD. Inq. 20 March, 32 Edw. I.

Luton. Having viewed the writings made between the said Cecily and Robert, and the king's letters patent, the jurors say that the said Cecily enfeoffed the said Robert to hold to him and the heirs of his body, by service to her of a pair of gilt spurs yearly for her life, and after her death to render 1*lb.* cummin yearly to her heirs, with reversion to her and her heirs, and he was thus in seisin until the day of his death ; but whether by reason of the king's confirmation he did homage to the king or not is unknown to the jurors, because they have had no previous knowledge of letters patent of this kind.

CALENDARS OF STATE PAPERS, &c.

[IMPERIAL 8vo., cloth. Price 15*s.* each Volume or Part, except where otherwise stated.]

Subsequent to recommendations of Committees of the House of Commons in 1800 and 1836, the Master of the Rolls, in 1865, stated to the Lords of the Treasury that although "the Records, State Papers, "and Documents in his charge constitute the most complete and "perfect series of their kind in the civilized world, and although "they are of the greatest value in a historical and constitutional point "of view, yet they are comparatively useless to the public from the "want of proper Calendars and Indexes." Whereupon their Lordships assented to the necessity of having Calendars prepared, and empowered the Master of the Rolls to take such steps as might be necessary for this purpose.

This work forms a comprehensive Palæographic Series for Ireland. It furnishes characteristic specimens of the documents which have come down from each of the classes which, in past ages, formed principal elements in the population of Ireland, or exercised an influence in her affairs. With these reproductions are combined fac-similes of writings connected with eminent personages or transactions of importance in the annals of the country to the early part of the eighteenth century.

The specimens have been reproduced as nearly as possible in accordance with the originals, in dimensions, colouring, and general appearance. Characteristic examples of styles of writing and caligraphic ornamentation are, as far as practicable, associated with subjects of historic and linguistic interest. Descriptions of the various manuscripts are given by the Editor in the Introduction. The contents of the specimens are fully elucidated and printed in the original languages, opposite to the Fac-similes—line for line—without contractions—thus facilitating reference and aiding effectively those interested in palæographic studies.

In the work are also printed in full, for the first time, many original and important historical documents.

Part I. commences with the earliest Irish MSS. extant.
Part II. From the Twelfth Century to 1299.
Part III. From 1300 to end of reign of Henry VIII.
Part IV.—1. From reign of Edward VI. to that of James I.

In part IV.—2 the work is carried down to the early part of the eighteenth century, with Index to the entire publication.
